San Antonio Public Library
Director’s Report July 2017
San Antonio Public Library Adult Summer Experience
DIRECTOR’S OFFICE

San Antonio was the venue for the International Society for Technology in Education conference taking place on June 25 – 28, 2017. In a partnership with the San Antonio International Airport and the Library, attendees of the International Society for Technology in Education conference will be welcomed via digital signage at the airport by San Antonio Public Library. The welcome message will encourage attendees to try one of the three Digital Library Kiosks located at the San Antonio International Airport. This opportunity is an excellent way to experience one of the many ways the San Antonio Public Library uses technology to support learning in our community.

The San Antonio Public Library developed a podcast aimed at sharing an insider’s perspective into the library. The podcast, “Tuned In” is hosted by SAPL Reference staff with episodes running 15-20 minutes and new episodes published monthly. The podcast will be available on iTunes, Soundcloud, PlayerFM, and several other podcast outlets. The San Antonio Library will officially release its new podcast “Tuned In” to the public the week of July 24, 2017.

Councilman Shaw’s Office requested a meeting with Library Director Ramiro Salazar for July 13, 2017 to discuss the Schaefer Branch Library and the possibility of a District 2 Northeast Mobile Field Office. The discussion is ongoing.

Library Director Ramiro Salazar accepted an invitation by the San Antonio Historical Association to deliver a presentation regarding the Latino Collection and Resource Center on July 20, 2017.

Assistant Library Director Dale McNeill attended the Friends of the Library Board Meeting on July 19, 2017 at the Bazan Branch Library and delivered a report regarding the development of the FY2018 Budget as well as the 2017 Bond Program.

DIGITAL SERVICES

On July 6, Digital Services reviewed a prototype for a new Staff Web (staff intranet), created by Digital Services staff member Michael Sheehan. This new version includes the ability to search, enhanced functionality, and lays the ground work for new features and customizations.

The Library’s digital content provider OverDrive has launched a new user-friendly app to download and access the Library’s digital content (i.e. e-books, e-audio books). Because the San Antonio Public Library continues to be an industry leader in digital content, SAPL is the featured Library showcased in App Stores (Google and iTunes) for individuals downloading the new app.

LITTLE READ WAGON
With most schools closed for the summer, Little Read Wagon did not offer any Every Child Ready to Read workshops for parents and services to teen parents during this reporting period.

Outreach Story Time programs were presented at the Nurturing Hearts and Healy Murphy child development centers. Little Read Wagon has also received requests for special Story Time presentations at area child care centers. These requests have been referred to the closest library location or added to the Little Read Wagon calendar based on staff availability.

Play & Learn programs have been very well attended in spite of the summer heat. Parks and Recreation staff has diligently prepared the pavilions at Woodlawn and South Side Lions parks. On June 22 it was necessary to call Animal Care Services to pick up two dogs from South Side Lions Park. While the dogs were not at all aggressive, they insisted on making themselves comfortable right in the middle of the activities the team was setting up for the children. The team is looking forward to offering lots of messy activities to wrap up the summer series.

Little Read Wagon brought a fun activity to the July 11 showing of Finding Dory at Travis Park. Children were invited to attach a cutout of a whale or fish to a clothespin. When properly attached, the children can make the whale or fish “open” its mouth by squeezing the clothespin.

Little Read Wagon is developing a new teacher’s workshop for the 2017-18 school year. The workshop will emphasize diversity in children’s literature.

Julia Lazarin has established a relationship with the YMCA Head Start center at Haven for Hope. As part of ongoing service to families with children at the center, Ms. Lazarin visits the center every Friday afternoon. She brings either a reading tent or book kits for families to enjoy, or an art activity for them to do together. Families look forward to the activities and facility staff report that they receive inquiries about it during the week.

Cresencia Huff participated in the City of San Antonio Head Start School Readiness Summit on July 14. Summit participants reviewed school readiness objectives and proposed edits to goals.

CHILDREN’S (SYSTEM-WIDE)

“Build a Better World” continues to grow as a variety summer programs invite children to visit the library on a regular basis. Summer Performances are always a big draw and this summer’s roster of special programs has been no exception. For example, Mad Science visited 20 branches this summer with 1,826 in attendance. This attendance figure yields an average of 91 at each presentation. In addition to these special events, the children’s librarians have been busy engineering a better world, building a calmer world, and exploring the ocean world with children across the city during weekly Kids Time programs.

Due to the vacant children’s librarian position at the Pan American Branch, Children’s Services Coordinator Viki Ash provided Kids Time, Toddler Time and Come & Go programming at the branch during June and much of July. While a vacancy is not generally something to hope for, the particular staffing shortage offered Viki the opportunity to brush up her programming skills, enjoy a great deal of conversation and creativity with children ranging in age from 2 to 12, and recollect just how exhausting a full schedule of children’s programs can be. Thankfully, Valerie Shelley (formerly at the Forest Hills Branch) rejoined the staff of SAPL on July 10 and will serve as children’s librarian at Pan American. Barbaraella Frazier was also welcomed to SAPL on July 10. She will take on the duties of Children’s Librarian at Las Palmas.

Registration for the Summer Reading and Read-To-Me Clubs continues to grow. As of Monday, July 17 total registration stood at 17,230. This registration number does not include the children participating through COSA Parks and Rec via their Summer Youth Program. These busy young readers should add over 4,000 to the final registration figure. For further details regarding the children’s version of Summer Reading, please visit http://guides.mysapl.org/summerreading.

Viki attended the 2017 American Library Association Conference in Chicago, June 23 – June 27. In addition to her service on the 2018 Laura Ingalls Wilder Committee, she participated in a full day pre-conference on “Project Outcome,” the Public Library Association’s performance measurement initiative for public libraries. The purpose of the project is to broaden the definition of library success to include the impact library programs and services have on customers. An extensive toolkit of surveys and analytics has been developed to further this aim, several of which Viki hopes to incorporate into the evaluation of children's services in the coming year.

On Thursday, July 13, Viki joined Teen Services Coordinator Jennifer Velasquez and Texana/Local History Librarian Matt DeWaelsche for a presentation to teachers at UTSA’s Summer Institute for Educators. Cosponsored by the Institute of Texas Cultures and the Tricentennial Commission, the summit brought together teachers, librarians and administrators from across the city to gather information and resources in anticipation of next year’s San Antonio 300 celebration.

On Friday, July 13, Viki and Cresencia Huff (Little Read Wagon) participated in COSA Head Start’s School Readiness Summit. This event centered on developing over-arching readiness goals for the 2017-18 school year. Included among the invited guests were Head Start parents and staff, professors for area universities, community advocates for early childhood education and members of the public health service. Attendance at events like this Head Start Summit provides increased visibility to the library programs and services but also allows library staff to increase their knowledge of early childhood development and forge ties with members of the early childhood community.

TEENS (SYSTEM-WIDE)

In partnership with Bexar County and the teens they serve, Teen Outreach Specialist Adam Tutor facilitates leadership activities and writing workshops that integrate methods and tools for constructive growth for teens facing probation and dealing with the legal system at a young age. Adam has met several of these teens after they have been released, and they have all expressed sincere gratitude for the program and the opportunity to reflect on their future.

Adam Tutor has continued the Library’s partnership with Krier Probation Center through a Teen Book Club, as well as designing a program that will help students phasing out of the probation center’s program to enter society a healthy and active citizen. Over the course of the book club, the teens demonstrated openness and a thoughtful attention to dialogue that progressed their ideas. They expressed great feedback to their supervisors, who will use this model for future partnership interactions.

Adam Tutor assisted the teen liaison from Guerra Library, Edward Mayberry (Library Assistant), at the SA Youth 5K on June 25 – a community event oriented around teens. Together, they promoted the Teen Summer Program and signed up teens for the program.
A partnership continued from last summer, Adam Tutor has created a mutually beneficial relationship for SAPL’s Teen Services and Park and Recreation’s Teen Center. Every other week the teens from the center come to visit the Teen Library @ Central, engaging in a stimulating activity with peers from other parts of the city. On the off-weeks, Adam goes to the center and facilitates activities for the teens involving music, recreation, and writing.

Teen Outreach Specialist Adam Tutor began supporting the Teen Time at Westfall Library Branch to fill in for the Teen Services Librarian vacancy. He was able to bring unique arts and crafts, as well as continue a strong bond through video gaming time. A warm and friendly environment was created, wherein the teens and Adam created a bond that persisted throughout the course of their interaction.

Teen Library @ Central Assistant Manager Megan Stanley participated in the TLA Annual Assembly as a member of the Lariat Reading List Committee. This is her second year on the committee and she looks forward to finding books to add to the adult fiction reading list this year.

Megan has also started work as a Re-Visionary on the Operation Transformation committee and is looking forward to serving as a point of contact.

On June 27, several staff in the Teen Library @ Central were interviewed by Fox 29 for the Daytime at Nine’s Where’s Cleto segments. Teen Library Manager Kathleen Fordyce talked about the Teen Library and summer activities at the SAPL. Library Assistant Regina Almanza had a couple of craft/cooking demos running during her segment. Regina talked about the pancake art and button making that was taking place, in addition to her regular Thursday summer teen programming. Library Assistant J.D. Elizondo spoke in the music studio about the Monday music programming he facilitates. Several teen volunteers were featured as well, and they spoke about how much they enjoyed hanging out in the Teen Library.

ADULTS (SYSTEM-WIDE)

The Adult Summer Experience has been very popular this year. Registration has doubled this year due to the exciting grand prizes. Participants can win chances for a variety of prizes ranging from a library t-shirt to a stay for two at a ranch in the hill country by reading, attending Library programs, and doing things to better the community. So far, people have reported donating clothes, planting a tree, helping a special needs teenager, volunteering at the food bank, giving free music classes, and working the literacy caravan as some of the activities they have done for the community. Thank you to the Friends of the Library for giving each finisher a free book, and thanks to the Library Foundation for supporting the grand prizes.

As part of the Adult Summer Experience, locations are hosting a multitude of programs in line with the theme of Build a Better World. A special series of programs for adults started in July entitled Adult Up: Life Skills for New Adults. “Adulting” is a popular concept that refers to doing grown up things and holding responsibilities such as a 9-5 job, car payment, rent, etc. This series is geared towards young adults and the skills they need to succeed in the world. Fifteen locations are participating. Classes include topics such as Basics of Home Repair, Managing Stress, Microwave Cooking, Money Management, and Decluttering Strategies for Real Life. To support the series, Ana Farr, Graphic Designer with the Marketing team, created flyers and stickers. The stickers are to be given to program participants and say things such as “fixed it myself” and “did not binge watch TV.” The series is meant to teach valuable life skills in a fun context.

Jeanne Johnson, LEARN training officer for the Carver Branch Library, has delegated funds from a grant from Dollar General to create a high school diploma pilot project for adults. At the beginning of the summer, she enrolled two LEARN patrons into the Broady Academy’s online high school Coordinator of Services to Adults Haley Holmes appeared on WOAI with a representative from Forester’s Financial to highlight our partnership which has brought a two-month long series of Financial Wellness classes to locations throughout the library system. The classes will continue through August 24. Ms. Holmes was also interviewed on KTSA AM Radio along with Public Information Officer Marcie Hernandez about the Adult Up series and the Adult Summer Experience.

CENTRAL LIBRARY

CHILDREN’S

Assistant Manager Shannon Seglin’s Toddler Time programs were very popular this month. Families with young children enjoyed the “All about Me” program in which the toddlers strengthened their fine motor skills using playdough to trace letters, engaged in the dramatic play activity of washing baby dolls, and enjoyed interactive books about different parts of the body. For a summer picnic program, children worked together on a collaborative picnic food art piece, engaged in imaginative play with puppets having a picnic and had the sensory experience of lemonade scented playdough with fruit-shaped cookie cutters. Children delighted in Pets Toddler Time, especially due to the “pet parade” in which children paraded pet puppets around the children’s area. They also had a fantastic time caring for animals at the imaginative play “vet station.” The raucous fun continued when the theme was music. The toddler parade was extra boisterous this time as children were given instruments to play as they marched around the children’s area, continuing the symphony of sounds during play time as well.

Manager Kate Simpson presented Build a Better World Kids Time programs on Saturdays this month. Children delighted in a collaborative art activity that was a literal expression of the Mayor’s Summer Reading Program theme – they made a colorful collage on an oversized world map and “built a better world” in that way. When the program focused on how animals and people help each other to make a better world, families enjoyed the interactive guessing game highlighting service animals and animal rescue programs. Afterwards they engaged in an imaginative exercise in which they created collage habitats for animals they pretended to have rescued. Ms. Seglin presented a very meaningful Kids Time with stories about building a better world through acts of kindness. The children crafted bookmarks with positive messages to put in library books to surprise patrons. She also developed an activity to honor San Antonio Police officers, in which families wrote messages of gratitude on a banner. After the program, she invited Central Library staff members to contribute, which led to an outpouring of support for the SAPD.

Librarians Nicole Cubillas and Lea Ann McDonald made LEGO Club into engaging building programs each week. They set up areas in the Story Room with developmentally appropriate building toys for all ages, which included soft blocks, DUPLOs, and LEGOs. In addition, each week they introduced different creative activities such as LEGO minifigure masks and homemade tinker toys. The attendance has been consistently high and there have been lots of positive feedback from families who enjoy the variety of fun learning activities.

Ms. Cubillas and Ms. McDonald have had immersive training experiences all month as they observed a variety of children’s programs presented by librarians throughout the system. In addition to learning from Ms. Seglin’s Toddler Time presentations and Jasmin Salinas’ Baby Time programs at Central, they observed Leslie Elsasser’s programs for young children at the Schaefer Branch Library, Robin Alcorta’s Story Time at Potranco Branch Library, and the Little Read Wagon team’s Play & Learns at area parks. Seeing this wide variety of program styles has been invaluable to their professional development.

Families had a fantastic time at the interactive Tambo Rhythms performance. Children of all ages participated in a lively drum circle. Not only did they learn about percussion but they also learned literacy tips like sounding out the syllables in words with rhythmic beats. The event was a great success and garnered lots of positive feedback.

Ms. Cubillas prepared an innovative summer travel-themed picture book display. The suitcase full of towels, sunglasses, hats and most importantly, books, has been a hit with children. Library Assistant Mary Elizabeth created an equally popular display of books from the juvenile nonfiction collection featuring high-interest summer topics like campfire ghost stories, craft activities and jokes and riddles.

Department Librarians continued to host visits from Alamo Heights elementary school students as part of the Alamo Heights Independent School District's summer program. The groups participated in a collaborative art project, learned about the library, and explored the library's picture book collection. The last group to visit was made up of bilingual students, offering Ms. Simpson and Ms. Cubillas an opportunity to present their first Bilingual Story Time together. All of the tours were great successes and led to several rounds of handmade thank you cards delivered over the following weeks, to the great delight of Children’s staff.

Ms. Seglin hosted a group of tweens from Rainbow Station Day Camp. She gave them an in-depth tour of the art and architecture of the Central Library and introduced them to the wealth of library resources available on the third floor.

Children’s Department staff developed an innovative new tour style for large groups this month. Ms. Simpson, Ms. Seglin, Ms. Cubillas and Ms. McDonald used the new tour format with a group of 80 students from the East Central School District to great success. Small groups of students were cycled through different activity centers throughout their visit so that everyone had a chance to experience aspects of a library tour that are normally not feasible with large groups. In addition to signing up for the Mayor’s Summer Reading Program, one of the most popular activities was the “kindness chain,” in which students wrote down ways to make a better world and linked the papers together forming a long chain of positivity.

Ms. Seglin conducted numerous outreach visits this month. She visited two classes at Madison Square Child Development Center, delivered an array of ocean-themed books to the Central Christian Childcare Center, and read stories to children at Temple Beth El Summer Camp. She also presented the children in each classroom with their Summer Reading Program certificates and prizes.

The Central Children’s Department’s success in signing children up for the Mayor’s Summer Reading Program was celebrated with a team building meeting. The staff enjoyed the special summer treat of refreshing fruit cups in recognition of their hard work promoting the program.

TEENS

Mondays with Library Assistant J.D. Elizondo: During the reporting period, J.D. facilitated Electric Music programming, in which teens can use the music studio to play instruments and/or record music. On June 19, J.D. and Library Assistant Ciana Flores met with Annie and Kate, a musical teen duo from Austin, along with their mother. During the meeting, they discussed playing the annual Rock the Plaza teen event at the Central Library in November. The notion of having a performance / songwriting workshop arose, in which Annie and Kate could discuss recording, performing and songwriting with other teens. The duo agreed to host and facilitate the Teen Songwriter Workshop in July.

Tuesdays with Assistant Manager Megan Stanley: Tuesdays are in transition as Megan is settling in to her new role the Teen Library at Central. Tuesday programming now provides teens with a chance to explore new forms of art through an Art Lab that provides supplies for both small and large scale art projects – chosen by the teens. It is a space that teens can work on their own projects or come to learn about a particular artist or style of art. During the reporting period, teens explored Edward Gorey and sketched using ink and paper.

Wednesdays with Librarian Ciana Flores: During the reporting period, Ciana hosted Science & Tech Tuesdays in the evenings during which teens designed 3D models to print and printed models found online. She also facilitated use of the Oculus Rift, a fun virtual reality headset loaded with games for teens.

Thursdays with Library Assistant Regina Almanza: On Thursdays, teens participate in activities that range from creating to playing to eating. Thursday’s teen activities encourage peer-to-peer assistance, creativity and helping plan out future activities. In celebration of Pride Month in June, teens used Skittles candy to attempt Skittles popcorn, a snack resembling caramel corn. Teens tested out two recipes and decided one had a better result than the other. They also mixed un-sanded tile grout with acrylic paint to create a chalkboard paint that they used on a wooden square. After letting it dry, they “seasoned” the board, rubbing chalk vertically and horizontally on the board to prevent permanent chalk markings on the wood.

A favorite summer program, making ice cream, was held with teens using the “science class” method of making ice cream and then topping their dessert with fruits and cookies. Afterwards, they made sewed plush toys and decorated t-shirts, using stencils they cut. One teen wanted a Guardians of the Galaxy movie night which inspired another teen to suggest that they should make Groot cookies. Using gingerbread dough, teens used Groot templates to cut out their dough and used knives to make tree bark markings. In a word, the cookies were adorable.

Trying their hands at the paper marbling craft, teens used three methods: the Japanese ink style (suminagashi), shaving cream and food colorings, and nail polish. The suminagashi method brought out “wows” from the teens who liked watching the ink in the water separate and form circles. Teens attempted making edible candy bowls. Before the event, when one teen asked the process of making one, she replied, “That’s weird, but in a good way. Weird’s good.” The process involved blowing up a balloon, dipping it in candy melts and letting it set. They filled their edible bowls with popcorn and watched Lemony Snicket’s A Series of Unfortunate Events. Using glitter and printed paper, teens made bubble magnets. Using geometry and some basic architecture skills, a couple of teens endeavored a more advanced craft building a geometric pencil cup, using shapes cut from a photo mat board, wood filler and glue. Their helpful hint for future crafters: bring out the glue gun. Pictures of Teen Summer Thursday programs can be found at http://www.flickr.com/210teenlibrary. Pictures and videos can also be found at http://www.instagram.com/210teenlibrary.

Several community centers brought groups of teens to the Teen Library to use computers and participate in teen library programming. Groups of teens from the George Gervin Center, Roy Maas, the Juvenile Detention Center, and the Selena Center made regular visits during the reporting period.

On June 20, several teens from a YMCA group were provided with tours of the Central Library. On June 22, a STEM senior class from Fox Tech High School visited the Central Library for a tour. Library Assistant J.D. Elizondo provided a tour of the building for the group, and Teen Library Manager Kathleen Fordyce showed the teens around the Teen Library and provided an overview of OverDrive via the department’s Mondopad.
REFERENCE

On Saturday, June 8, Sally Bauer hosted An Insider’s View on Investigating the Paranormal. Jeff Sullivan from the organization Sixth Sense Paranormal spoke about “ghost hunting” and what it actually is. He brought the equipment organization members use in their work. Mr. Sullivan also discussed some of the cases he has worked on.

Cristine Mitchamore hosted her Book Group on July 12. The selected title, Makers by Cory Doctorow, was deemed not one of the author’s better books. The group decided that Doctorow really seemed to hate Disney and believed that creative makers/doers are doomed to an unhappy life.

Bettina Hernandez and Lily Perez hosted Free Films on June 20 and June 29; the films were part of the …Lights, Camera Action! series. Attendees received information on the Library’s film resources including how to access Overdrive’s video collection.

Participants have been enjoying a new ongoing event during the month of July. Ms. Hernandez and Ms. Perez have created and are hosting Library Scrabble on the second floor of the Central Library. On July 1, July 8 and July 15, attendees created words with Scrabble tiles; the patron with the highest scoring word for the week is entered into a monthly grand prize drawing. On July 13, Ms. Perez and Ms. Hernandez hosted Scrabble en Español.

Ms. Perez hosted a SCORE Workshop on July 15 titled 100 Low Budget Marketing Ideas.

TEXANA/GENEALOGY

California visitors Raul and Connie Rodriguez posted a glowing review of Texana/Genealogy resources and staff on Facebook, signaling out Librarian Sylvia Reyna for her exceptional service. “The staff in the Genealogy department was excellent, especially Sylvia. She helped in focusing my research and providing contacts in the community who might be able to add to my research. The facilities are incredible; the staff, excellent. We found our home in San Antonio! Thank you, all in the Genealogy Department!”

Assistant Manager Matt De Waelsche assisted at the San Antonio Tricentennial Educators Workshop at UTSA on July 10, staffing the San Antonio Public Library vendor table, answering questions, and handing out brochures. Mr. De Waelsche also participated in a panel with Viki Ash and Jennifer Velasquez on July 13 discussing student resources available at the library.

An avid group of summer volunteers continue to transcribe oral histories from Texana’s collection which began back in the 1970’s. Many thanks and much appreciation go out to Ruth Mini, Fernando Ortiz and SheerAnn (Sam) Moulton, for listening to hours of interviews and typing out these long-ago spoken words.

BRANCH LOCATIONS
BAZAN

Children's Librarian Hope Sonnen hosted Sandbanks Shadow Factory puppetry on June 19 during Kids Time. The children and adults enjoyed singing and participating in the program. Ms. Sonnen continued weekly programs and outreach to the Avance, Morales and Frank Garrett centers.

Attendance for the Bad Girls Romance Book Club, hosted by Library Assistant Enedina Prater, continued to do well, attracting new readers to the genre. The July selection Bad Romeo by Leisa Rayven received a boost when Mrs. Rayven herself helped in promoting the book club by sharing the flyer for the program on her social media platforms. Several authors whose books will be discussed have also been very active with Ms. Prater on Twitter and have been retweeting and promoting the club. Attendees left the last book club meeting with some great library “swag” which included a free paperback romance book, DIY thank you cards and bookmarks. Dessert and drinks were provided by the staff, which the patrons appreciated and partook in.

Teen Librarian Georgina Salinas, with help from Library Assistant Enedina Prater, visited the UTSA Downtown campus to participate in the Annual Summer Bridging Institute, a professional development day for district 20 public school teachers. The event invited organizations from the surrounding community to deliver information on the resources available for teachers and students. Georgina presented valuable information to the group of educators to disseminate down to their public school students, including information on how use practice modules on Learning Express Library for the STAAR, AP, SAT, and ACT exams. In addition, Georgina and Enedina explained how teachers can contact their local branch library or teen librarian to schedule tours. After the presentation, the educators had many questions about SAPL programs and left with sets of Homework Help flyers, bookmarks, LEARN Center brochures, and library volunteer brochures.

At Bazan, Georgina continued to host weekly young adult programs along with a monthly Book Club. Recently updated program hours attracted a group of teens who were enthusiastic about weekly games, crafts, and trivia. Strong friendships continued to be forged during this time and the group was increasingly comfortable suggesting new ideas and in taking a leadership role facilitating craft or games and were conscientious about inclusivity.

Bazan had the pleasure of hosting two Joven summer program interns, Jazlyn De Leon and Abraham Lomas, who took the lead in redesigning our teen space. Jazlyn additionally took the initiative to document teen programs by displaying Polaroid photos of gaming on the teen wall, and also hosted impromptu teen programs when needed. During their time at Bazan, the volunteers were an integral part of teen services.

The Digital Inclusion classes held at the Bazan Library taught by Emma Hernandez were so popular that additional sessions of Internet Basics, Cybersecurity, and Online Job Search were offered again during the last weeks of June.

Bazan Training Officer Emily Flores participated in the Project Management Essentials professional development training offered through the City of San Antonio’s Human Resources Department.

BROOK HOLLOW
On Tuesday, June 19, Children’s Librarian Rachael Barrera presented her monthly STEM Story Time. Children learned about ice cream and how it is made. They also had an opportunity after the program to explore several math and science based activities with their caregivers. On Tuesday, July 11, TamboRhythms visited the library. Jorge Ochoa, a Pediatric Occupational Therapist, led two drum circles. Children of all ages and their families got to participate with drums and other percussion instruments.

During the reporting period, teens at Brook Hollow played games, crafted, and helped to select activities for future Teen Times. Teens improved their Super Smash Bros skills, using their manual dexterity to conquer new worlds and win matches. Participants also gained sewing skills, learning how to cut out patterns, using the backstitch, blind stitch, and blanket stitch to create stuffed toys out of felt. Teens tried new board games and played familiar ones, discussing rules and strategies all the while. Teens also created designs out of perler beads, creating their own patterns, using ones provided, and searching for others on the internet. Participants also suggested and discussed ideas for future programs. In mid-July, the teens had the opportunity to make buttons using Brook Hollow’s new button maker, provided by the Friends of Brook Hollow Branch Library. Teens upcycled artwork from damaged books and magazines or created their own designs.

Brook Hollow patrons and staff members are very enthusiastic about the changes to the Adult Summer Reading Program this year. Patrons are enjoying the interactive punch cards and the weekly prize drawings. As of July 15, over three times as many participants have completed the program compared to last year.

This year Brook Hollow is one of five branches partnering with the Northeast Independent School District to serve free lunches to children aged 18 years and younger. The program had a successful June, with 411 lunches being served. Lunch is provided Monday – Friday in the meeting room.

CARVER

On Saturday, July 1, the branch recognized the contributions of an historic African American regiment that helped defend the western frontier, starting shortly after the close of the Civil War. The Buffalo Soldiers were honored with a special ceremony kicking off Buffalo Soldiers Heritage Month. The event included the launch of a 20-piece art exhibit that was expected to be on display through July 31.

During the month of July, two students in Carver Branch’s High School Degree Completion Program became its first graduates. Three other students are expected to begin on August 7, according to Learn Center Training Officer Jeanne Johnson. Ms. Johnson said the first graduate has announced plans to attend San Antonio College in the fall.

Former Mayor Ivy Taylor was among the guests at a reception at Carver on Thursday, July 13 celebrating the start of a digital initiative honoring the history of African Americans in San Antonio. The San Antonio African American Community and Archive Museum (SAACAM) Hope House Ministries will tell the story of the African American in the Alamo City. Project consultants Karida Brown, Ph.D, of the Brown University sociology department and Everett Fly, who has studied black settlements in the U.S., were also on hand. Dr. Brown, who was in San Antonio training individuals to conduct oral history interviews for SAACAM, some of which were done at Carver Library, commended the branch for its efforts to help preserve the legacy and culture of the city’s East Side.

On Saturday, July 8, DL Grant traveled to Austin as a delegate to the Texas Library Association Annual Assembly. Mr. Grant serves on the nominations committee.
Carver’s Assistant Manager Monty Holcomb hosted four Chess Events. Mr. Holcomb also hosted four regular Teen Time events with the Wii. In addition to the usual Wii games, he held a special teen program that was coordinated with a local educator. During that event, he led a dozen teens on a tour of the library and then offered them bibliographic and training in database use. He also arranged a Home Repair program on July 11 that attracted a good turnout.

Carver Library planned additional children’s programs this summer to support SAPL’s Summer Reading Program. As a result, new visitors were attracted, such as Alamo City All-Stars youth camp which joined the come-and-go craft session on June 20. In another activity, tweens painted mason jars and planted sunflower seeds. Tweens discussed their previous experiences with planting seeds. Finally, during another program, tweens learned how to make their own fidget spinners using three different methods. Then we tested the different spinners to see which ones spun the fastest and which ones spun the longest.

Every week Ms. Salinas reads two stories to children or brings art books to discuss a specific art movement or artist. Then, children are encouraged to make anything they want with the supplies put out and to explore their own creativity. The emphasis of Art Club is on the process of creating art and not worrying about making mistakes. Summer projects have included drawing bubbles with oil pastels, painting with water colors, and self-portraits in the style of Picasso. Nearly 200 contributions have been made so far and the space is nearly full. Summer Reading is going strong with over 240 children signed up and just over 40 children earning their certificates and prizes. The new green screen pictures are hugely popular and one child even delayed having his photo taken in order to be photographed with the toolbox he built. He describes himself as a self-taught woodworker and learned his craft with books he borrowed from the San Antonio Public Library!

Spikey Mikey visited the branch for Kids Time on July 13. Over 61 people filled the meeting room for fun and tricks. Children and families loved hearing that McCreless Library is where Spikey Mikey got his start and where he borrowed the first of many magic books to start his career. There has been a good response and the branch expects to see these youngsters participate in the other table tennis programs with more confidence.

Summer is in full swing for the children at Mission and children’s programming is a focal point. Children are enthusiastically joining the Summer Reading Club and many have claimed their rewards throughout the month. The first special program, Shadow Puppet Theatre, was heavily attended. The kids really enjoyed the puppet show as they interacted with the presenters and had fun learning a little about poetry.

The Kids Time programs have been wonderful. There is a large painted mural, created in one of the Kids Time programs, that is over 20 feet long. It is displayed in the meeting room where children’s programs are held. The branch received a special treat via a visit from the local fire station. Some lucky kids and staff got to take a ride in the basket on top of the ladder. Smiles were seen all around.

PARMAN

Parman welcomes Rita and Kristie, new Library Aides, and Connor a new temporary Aide. All three have already settled in well and are contributing greatly to the branch!

In July, Friends of the Library held a meeting in which fall plans were discussed. The book sale was moved to October. The branch manager attended the meeting.

On June 29, Parman hosted Mad Science at the branch as part of the Summer Reading Program. Over 200 children and their parents attended and learned about the science of sound! The Mad Scientist made a pickle glow, a potato fly, and even helped the kids create an indoor rainstorm with their hands and feet. Parman is looking forward to having Mad Science back to teach everyone more science!

Parman has created a Transformation Station with K-Nex toys recently donated to the branch. Kids are learning about engineering, construction, and special awareness through playing with these brightly-colored toys.
Parman’s Do It Yourself University summer sessions were presented by The Alamo Area Woodcarvers Association and Oscar Gonzales, Mission Branch Manager. Woodcarvers taught the participants how to make a beautiful miniature gourd paisley hen through a multi-step process. In a class presented by Oscar, participants learned the fundamentals of bonsai selection, styling, maintenance and month-by-month care, and gained hands-on experience in shaping a bonsai tree. Both programs were very well received by the patrons.

Assistant Manager Gamini Haluwana presented a session on how to sharpen your news-discrimination skills and which sources of news are reliable. With fabricated and bogus reports often masquerading as legitimate news online and in social media, the ability to evaluate the reliability of the news sources from which they come is a critical skill.

POTRANCO

Summer time has certainly increased the popularity of children’s programming at the Potranco Branch Library. The four programs presented by Children’s Librarian Robin Alcorta (Toddler Time, Story Time, Read to a Dog, and Family Fun) as well as Librarian Kassandra Vela-Laos’s Tween Time are weekly sources of inspiration and imagination for the youngest of patrons. With the addition of special summer events—such as Matt Sandbank’s famous Wild Goose Chase shadow puppet show—patrons of all ages are also enjoying the excitement of the Summer Reading Program.

After the roaring success of the Potranco Branch Library’s Summer Reading Kickoff Party, Children’s Librarian Robin Alcorta was invited to promote the Summer Reading Program on a segment of SA Live. To tie in with the Summer Reading Program’s Build a Better World theme and the Potranco Branch Library’s specific theme of Build a Better Underwater World, Alcorta presented ocean-themed books and crafts. Alcorta also attended a Tiny Dancers ballet class at the Mays Family YMCA at Potranco and spoke with families about signing up for the Summer Reading Program as well as library programming and library cards.

The four teen summer programs established by Teen Librarian Daniella Toll—Teen Gaming, Manga Club, Teen Time, and Financial Literacy—continued throughout the reporting period with steady attendance from teen patrons. Toll’s partnership teen program with the Mays Family YMCA at Potranco—a Creative Writing workshop—also launched during this reporting period. With support from the San Antonio Food Bank, Toll also provides free snacks for patrons 18 and less, two days a week.

Teen Librarian Daniella Toll has successfully recruited 14 teen volunteers to assist with various tasks at the Potranco Branch Library. Teen volunteer duties include assisting librarians during programs, preparing circulation and reference materials for the ASK Desk, and most importantly, helping establish the Teen Library Leadership Council. PRUITT at ROOSEVELT HS

Pruitt Library has experienced an influx of children and families joining in on this summer’s exciting programs. Summer Reading finishers are thrilled to receive their free book, certificate, and the chance for a photo op in front of the green screen. Families can select from a variety of scenes. So far the beach scene, complete with sunglasses, pails, and a beach ball, has been the most popular choice.

Children’s Librarian Cynthia Saenz presented Engineering a Better World during a recent Kids’ Time event. Children discussed different ways they can help conserve our natural resources and listened to a reading of If I Built a House by Chris Van Dusen. Kids and parents prepared rolls of tightly-wound newspapers and used them to construct buildings of different shapes and sizes.

The performance by Mad Science was popular among children of all ages. The experiments presented by the scientist were simply amazing. Kids especially liked the floating beach ball and the creation of the fog wafting and filling the room.

Other popular attractions this summer are Lego Camp, Fun Gaming and Crafts, and the Family Matinee.

Pruitt Library is hosting 11 teen interns this summer—five are from Joven Young Leaders and six are from Family Services Association. Teen Librarian Rae Downen requests so many interns because she wants to help build a better sense of community for the teens. The interns help with programming for children and teens.

This summer teen patrons are enjoying Tuesday Teen Tech Time and have used iLoom with the iPad to make friendship bracelets; Bloxels to build their own video games; and Little Bits electronic building blocks to design their own circuits with inputs and various outputs. The teen interns designed their own 3D nametags using Tinkercad123D and printed them on the 3D printer.

Just because it is summer, learning does not stop. The teens are encouraged to enter an essay contest, “Why We Need Diverse Books.” This activity was mandatory for the interns. In addition, the Interns are reading All American Boys by Jason Reynolds. He will be at the Texas Teen Book Festival in October, and a fieldtrip is scheduled to take the teens in hopes of meeting him and getting him to sign their books. The Pruitt staff recently met with SAPL Board of Trustees District 2 Representative Gloria Malone. She heard that the interns were reading All American Boys and asked for a copy to read along with them.

The teen interns have promoted Teen Summer Reading Program by encouraging other teens to register. The teens and interns are able to Build a Better World right here at Roosevelt because the school has a new community garden, thanks to the efforts of science teacher Misty Belmontez, other Roosevelt staff, community members and local businesses. The teens have been weeding the garden and creating interpretive signage. They also ate the fruits of their labor when Karen Barton, Liaison to the School of Health Professions and Community Engagement Librarian, came to Teen Time and cooked a healthy meal and dessert for the teens using herbs and vegetables from the community garden.

Pruitt Manager Dee Dee Davenport taught an Email Basics class to an enthusiastic group of adult learners. Participants created email accounts and learned about important topics such as creating secure passwords and avoiding phishing scams. All class materials were made available to participants on a complimentary flash drive.

Adult patrons enjoyed a Piñata-Making Class taught by Roosevelt High School Librarian Lynnette Perez. They used cardboard scraps, tissue paper, and hot glue guns to make festive piñata creations. At the end of the session, participants got to stuff their piñatas with candy, and everyone left the session with a ready-to-use product.

Adults have also enjoyed learning about mindfulness with Carrie Edmond this summer at Pruitt Branch. She has focused on mindful breathing and self-compassion, and patrons have had opportunities to participate in a variety of sensory experiences under her guidance.

The Adult Summer Experience has been a big hit with patrons who previously participated in summer reading initiatives as well as with new participants. The Branch has received many positive comments about being able to count community service as participation. The t-shirt giveaway has also been a big draw.

Schaefer is offering Come & Go Crafts on Friday afternoons and many staff members are helping with this program by developing fun and creative craft activities. Large crowds of children and their families have attended special performers including Mad Science, Spiky Mikey and Reptile Man.

Schaefer is also offering Family Fun movies where the kids do a craft or activity related to the movie before it starts. Shai Moore had kids make Hawaiian leis and try bowling with a coconut before showing the movie Moana on July 8. Christina Cardenas had kids make a handprint rose out of finger paint before showing The Beauty and the Beast on July 15.

The Boys & Girls Club has brought a group of children twice to Schaefer for field trips.

This July, the Schaefer branch and its customers are working together to build a kinder world with the “30 Days of Kindness Challenge”. Each day, customers are challenged to do one kind thing, like writing a positive message in sidewalk chalk, donating items, or letting someone merge in front of them!

Schaefer Branch is hosting Zumba classes every Saturday. July 8, Schaefer had 21 participants, which is by far the most the library had! Schaefer Zumba Class is taught by Darlene De La Garza, a certified Zumba Instructor. Schaefer Zumba students and patrons have commented on how unique and exciting it is to have Zumba in the library!

SEMMES

Randi Jones conducted several successful summer programs in June and July. The Kids Time programs on Thursdays are greatly enjoyed by all attendees. Ms. Jones reports that in one program, the children made miniature zen gardens. Last week one of the participants told Ms. Jones that when he wants to relax, he goes to his zen garden. Ms. Jones is really enjoying these programs with the school aged children.

The Summer Lunch Program continues to be very popular at the branch. This is the second year that the library has partnered with the North East Independent School to provide free lunches to children aged 0-18.

Children’s Librarian Brian Douglass has started several new programs at the branch. Mr. Douglass is working with the Tweens and Teens. In July, he started a weekly Teen Program. Two teens came for the first program and he hopes to build up the attendance as more teens learn about the program. Mr. Douglass is also starting a Teen Book Club that will meet once a month.

Staff is working with the Parks and Recreation department to set up some Fitness in the Park classes at the branch. The instructor that was scheduled to start classes at Semmes resigned unexpectedly, but staff is hopeful that fitness classes can be brought to the branch soon.

Ms. Braeuler hosts a weekly Kids Time on Tuesday that incorporates many STEM ideas related to the Build a Better World summer reading theme. Many weekly Toddler and Story Times include creative play and exercises associated with the better world topic. Summer Reading finishers especially like having their picture taken with the green screen background and emailed to their family to share.

Ms. Coker has weekly drawings for a choice of donated books, earbuds, flash drives or cool posters.

The Tobin Writers Group continues to meet twice monthly on Saturdays. The group hosted a Writers’ Pitch Fest on June 28. Tobin at Oakwell staff wants to thank all the SAPL employees that have come to aid the team with the additional patrons and workload as a result of the Landa closure and renovations. Some shared ideas and best practices have been implemented as a result and personnel have come to know some people they had not met in person before. In addition, the branch welcomed Holly Hirschberger as a Library Assistant and Courtney Simchak-Mertz and Luis (Tony) Salinas as Library Aides for the summer months.

WESTFALL

a meditative or calming effect. The class proved to be very popular with all available spots taken for the month.

Interim Branch Manager Nathaniel Laubner continued to visit the Madonna SAHA apartments to deliver and pick up books for the residents. Mr. Laubner brought books in English, Spanish and Russian. The Russian residents are the most avid readers and are always asking for new materials. Since the Central Library houses most of the foreign language materials, books have to be ordered from there. Occasionally, staff will stop by Central to browse the collection to see what might appeal to the Madonna residents.

The Westfall Branch Library welcomed new employee Paschal Booker to the team. Mr. Booker will be working as a Library Assistant on a temporary basis. He brings a background in education and a lifelong passion for reading, writing, and books. Mr. Booker has settled in well with the team and has already established a great rapport with the community.
